

DUI for former teen idol Cassidy

COURT • Former teen idol David Cassidy has been arrested in Florida on suspicion of drunk driving after police said they found a half-empty bottle of whiskey in his car. Cassidy, 60, a singer and star of the 1970s TV series The Partridge Family, was spotted weaving in and out of traffic on the highway near Fort Pierce on Wednesday night, according to the Florida Highway Patrol.

Police described the singer as unsteady on his feet, said he failed an alcohol breath test, and that they found a half-empty bottle of bourbon on the back seat of his Mercedes car.
